In total, there are 7 parts to this ratio ($2 + 5 = 7$). If 7 shares have a value of 35, then 1 share has a value of 5 ($35 \div 7 = 5$). Since 1 share has a value of 5, then 2 shares will have a value of 10 ($2 \times 5 = 10$). Since 1 share has a value of 5, then 5 shares will have a value of 25 ($5 \times 5 = 25$).
